

Writing: Solace of Life

Writing has power:

The Holy books

The Constitution

To light fire

(Figuratively and literary)

Solace of life

is what writing to me

When we write

we message our souls

those wandering creatures

we guide them back

safely home

It is a free world

there are no laws

there are no judgments

It is only you, your hands your paper and pen

Sometimes times you see red

other times you feel blue,

green with envy,

yellow-bellied,

or tickled pink

Write those colors!

Paint them masterpieces!